Example 2

Conceptual development and implementation of a guideline to plan holistic internal logistics

Example 3

Attractiveness for the right people – development of a key performance indicator system for measuring the success of employer attractiveness

Our Study Format

Furthermore, the graduates of the alumni survey 3 years after completing their studies are convincing with the following results:

94 % of the alumni evaluate the Experience Based Curriculum (EBC) as good to very good.

Our Experience Based Curriculum (EBC) guarantees long-term learning effects by trying things out under real conditions with the support of experts instead of just learning by heart.

You work on one or more projects that are of particular benefit to your partner company. In addition to your regular day-to-day work, which you manage, you have the opportunity to shape corporate development through your own projects.

54 % of the alumni have a management position three years after graduation.

10 % of all alumni have founded a company within three years after graduation.

One format – several features

Work-integrated

Study on real-world project integrated with professional activity

Hybrid

According to the preferences, the proportion of on-site or live online seminars can be controlled during the course of study to a certain extend

Collaborative

Focus on intensive exchange and networking

79,000 € is the average salary of the alumni three years after graduation.

"I benefit most from the strategic management that was taught during my studies. The advantage of this study programme is that you don't just talk about theoretical cases in the sense of ‚what if...‘, but you apply the scientific theory to your own project and understand what you can or cannot achieve with it. A great experience."

Theresa Conrad, M.Sc.-Alumna

"Thanks to the content of the Master's degree program, I can add value to the company right from the start. The opportunity to supervise a project for two years is unique and a great advantage."

Steffen Nold, M.Sc.-Alumnus
